Notes

Infant, neonatal and perinatal mortality rates for local areas can fluctuate quite substantially between years due to the small number of deaths recorded at these ages.

1 Age-standardised mortality rates are standardised to the 1976 European Standard Population, expressed per 100,000 population, they allow comparisons between populations with different age structures, including between males and females and over time. Age-standardised mortality rates (ASMRs) for Scotland and Northern Ireland will differ from those published by National Records of Scotland and Northern Ireland Statistics and Research Agency as their published ASMRs are based on only population data. ASMRs published here use live births instead of the population age under 1.

2 The deaths of those whose usual residence is outside England and Wales are included in total figures for England and Wales, but excluded from any sub-division of England and Wales.

3 City of London has been grouped with Hackney because of the very small number of deaths in this area. The Isles Of Scilly were recoded on 1 April 2009. They are separately administered by an Isles of Scilly council and do not form part of Cornwall UA but, for the purposes of the representation of statistical data, they have been combined with Cornwall UA.

.. Denotes not available

: Denotes not applicable. Rates were not calculated where there were fewer than 3 counts in a cell, denoted by (:). It is ONS practice not to calculate rates where there are fewer than 3 counts in a cell, as rates based on such low numbers are susceptible to inaccurate interpretation.

Rates which are calculated from less than 20 counts are distinguished by italic type as a warning to the user that their reliability as a measure may be affected by the small number of events.
